

I ask You to come into my life, fill me with Your love, and give me lasting peace and security. Teach me how to communicate with You, so I can find direction and answers.

If you take this first step, you've got a friend forever. I'll never leave you, and we'll begin a wonderful new life together. I'll also show you how you can share this wonderful love and happiness and My solutions to life with others.

Whether you've just accepted Me, or whether you've known Me for some time now, I want you to spread this good news to everyone you meet! Ask Me how you can tell your friends, acquaintances and all you meet about this good news—about the "Someone" who can make a difference in their lives—and I'll show you how. Remember, everybody has a need of some kind. I want to fill those needs. Once you've found the secret, you can help others find it too.

Your Special Someone,

Economic worries threaten. Maybe you're feeling lonely, or you find yourself engulfed in the depths of despair. Sometimes you feel forsaken, and that not one soul understands the agony of heart that pains you. Maybe you feel trapped by what surrounds you and the complexities of living are more than you can bear. Sometimes you feel isolated, so far away from friends and loved ones. There are times when all your dreams have fallen apart. Perhaps some mortal danger threatens to undo you. When you need direction, you don't know where to turn, and you can't make it on your own, I've got something just for you.

Even if one of these scenarios or something similar does not accurately portray the current state of your life, I've still got something just for you. If the going is good for you right now, I can make it go even better.

Whether your life seems to be going uphill or down, I know there's something you need, and I can give it to you.

How would you like to have a friend that truly sticks by you through thick and thin, a companion that will never let you down? Someone who is always on call to help you when you're in need? How would you like to have someone who can help answer your questions, and help you find the key or solution to any problem? Do you need someone who will lend you a listening ear anytime you need it, or who will give you a shoulder to cry on, or who will simply listen to that great new idea that just popped into your head? How would you like to have someone who can lift you up out of the depths of

Just For You

Do you ever feel you could use a little "oomph" in your life? A little pick-me-up? Some type of enhancement? Maybe you've seen better days. Or, maybe things are just fine and everything is rolling along smoothly for you. Maybe things have never been better. Or, perhaps you're in dire straits right now, desperately grasping for a ray of hope from somewhere. Whatever the case, whether you're feeling down and out, or whether you're sailing along on top of the world, I've got something for you.

Let's face it, whatever state you find yourself in, there's always room for improvement. You and I both know that in the world today, more often than not, everyone needs help in some way, shape or form. When you lay the cards out on the table, what do you see? Bottom line: The events of September 11th have set the course for the future. In a world where anxiety and uncertainty is on the rise, where signs of gross inhumanity of man to man can be seen daily on the 6 o'clock news, something's gotta give. I have that something.

Many things occur in your daily lives, whether good or bad, that I can help you with. Disappointments come. Maybe that promised job falls through, a loved one falls sick, or an unexpected accident shatters your life. Maybe the doctors have no answers and there's no earthly hope in sight.

discouragement? Someone who will root for you and cheer you on, someone who can help your empty life become happy, or turn your good life into a great life? How would you like to have someone in your life who can make a difference? Someone to stand beside you, walk with you and talk with you through life's good times as well as the bad times, through all the ups and all the downs? Someone you can always turn to, someone who will give you solutions to every difficulty that presents itself. How would you like to have someone to love you unconditionally, someone to give you that warm, fuzzy feeling of love, joy and happiness? Someone who will never leave you, and who will never let you down? Someone to give you peace of mind no matter what is going on around you? How would you like to have someone who always shows faith in you, someone who is always understanding and compassionate and who loves you dearly?

I want to be that Someone in your life, and yes, I will do all these things for you—and more!

This is what I offer you: I want to give you love, direction, peace and security both in this life and in the world to come. I can make a difference in your life! And the best part about My offer is that it's free, it's available, and you can have it right now—just for the asking. All you have to do is invite Me into your heart and ask Me to be a part of your life by saying this simple prayer: Yes, Jesus, I take You up on this offer. Please forgive me for all the wrongs that I have done.
